

SUSTAINABILITY AT STOCKHOLMSMÄSSAN

Sustainability means taking the needs of both current and future generations into consideration as well as claiming a long-term responsibility in our daily activities. Our sustainability efforts have three focus areas: Sustainable Community, Sustainable Environment and Sustainable Innovation. Here are some examples on how these translate into practises. Find more information at stockholmsmassan.se

FOOD & BEVERAGE
All restaurants in our venue are certified with the Swedish sustainability label KRAV, which means that whatever you crave, our menus will cater to your tastebuds as well as the planet. We do not serve any fish or seafood that is red-listed by WWF and we convert all food waste into climate friendly biogas.

ENERGY & VENTILATION
Our power consumption is constantly decreasing. Efficient heat pumps regulate temperatures, and the exhibition halls are easily partitioned so no areas are heated or ventilated while unused. Also, the electricity we use is ecolabelled and derived from renewable sources. Reducing our carbon footprint really gives us energy.

Sustainable Community

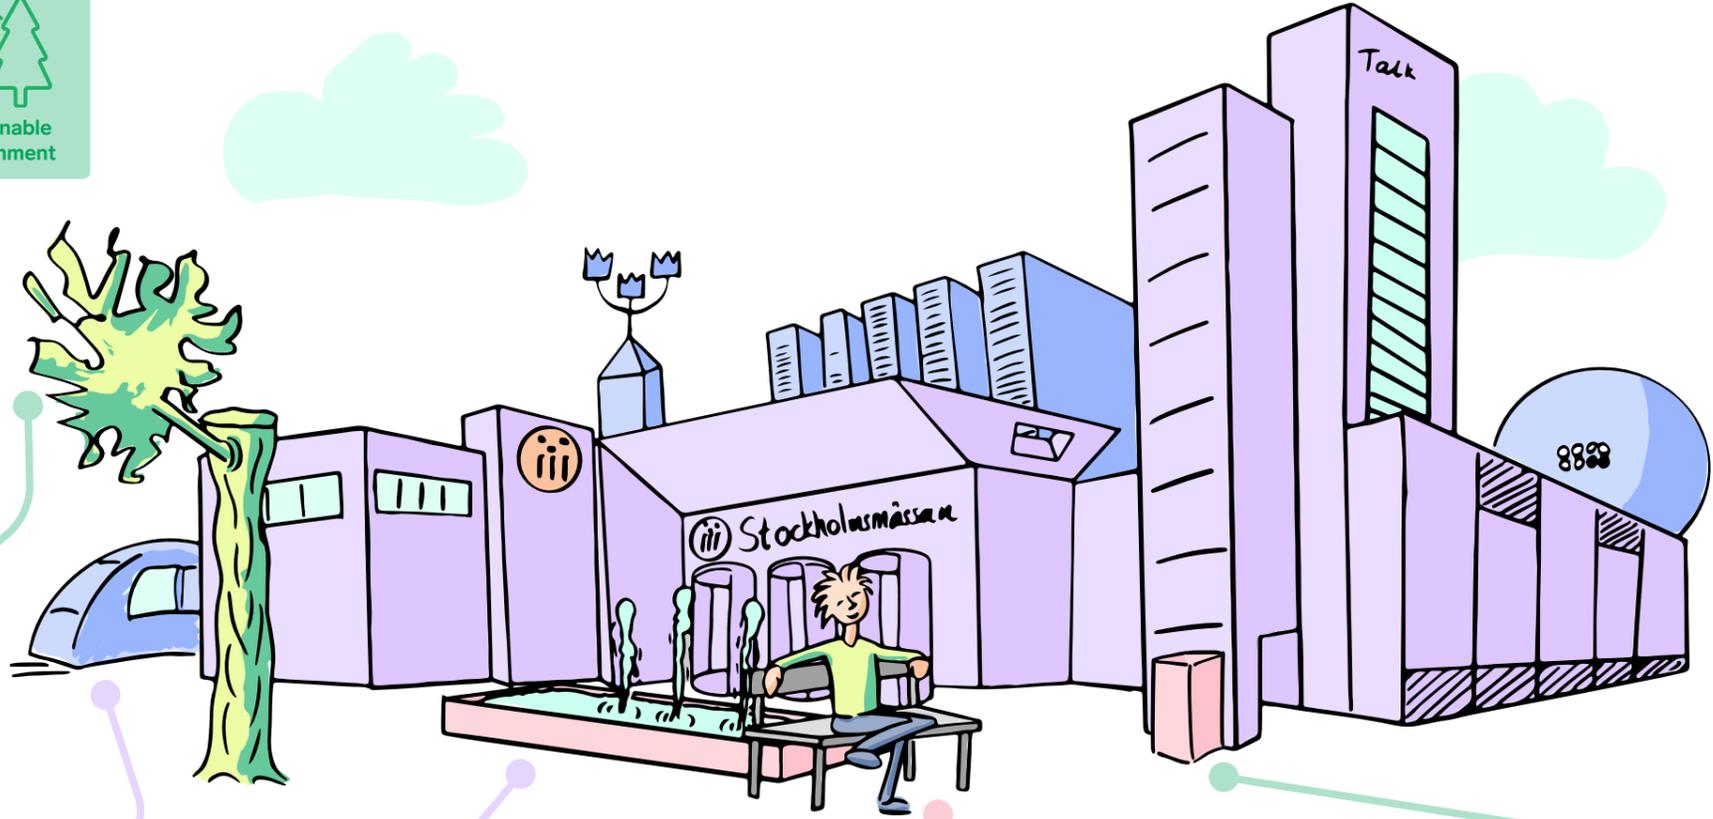

Sustainable Innovation

Sustainable Environment

BIODIVERSITY
Biodiversity is a requirement for all life. We further biodiversity by maintaining our own park where the lawn gets to grow wildly and attract pollinating insects such as bees, bumblebees, and butterflies, which are vital to all our food crops and eco systems. Let it bees!

CERTIFICATIONS
In 2019 we proudly obtained a certification for ISO 20121 – Sustainable Event Management. Our suppliers (such as the cleaning company and the hotel next door) all hold several sustainability certifications and ecolabels as well.

TRANSPORTS
All roads lead to Stockholmsmässan, it seems. You can reach us fast and easy by way of public transport and we offer bicycle parking for those with energy to spare. And speaking of energy, as much as possible of our internal logistics fleet consists of electric vehicles. For everything else we use 100% environmental fuels.

CLEAN WATER
Water is not only the best quencher of thirst there is and utterly essential to our existence. It is also a human right. We use low-flow faucets and toilets to spend less water. Every little drop helps.

SAFETY & WELLBEING
At Stockholmsmässan, you have the right to feel safe, no matter if you are an employee, a supplier, a client, exhibitor, or visitor. We take a safe work environment for granted and our employees can enjoy several benefits such as a collective agreement, wellness allowance, an hour per week for exercising and the possibility of joining work-related art, sports or sustainability club.

RECYCLING
We firmly believe in second, third and even fourth chances and repurpose as much furniture and other materials as possible. No less than 98% of our waste is either reused, recycled or energy recovered. Who knew that thinking in circles is the way forward?